Introduction
The Belle Haven neighborhood lies within the City of Menlo Park, a predominantly affluent small city in San Mateo County. Belle Haven is geographically, demographically and economically distinct from the larger city, its residents are not included in the Menlo Park School District; they are instead served by the Ravenswood School District. The Belle Haven population is less affluent, less educated and more ethnically diverse than the population of the City. The Belle Haven community has many assets, a strong sense of identity and a desire to improve its neighborhood.

Menio Park's Redevelopment Area (RDA), the Las Pulgas Community Development Area. In 2012, under state law, RDAs were dissolved, resulting in significant budget cuts that have impacted the services the City is able to provide. Inclusion in the RDA allowed the City to provide a higher annual allocation of funds per resident to Belle Haven, City to provide a nigner annual allocation or runos per resident to sellen Haven, compared to the City as a whole. Without ROA funds, the City's ability to provide services levels at previous levels is compromised, and cost-cutting measures – such as the elimination of the Housing Department – have been put in place. Major land use changes are also underway near Belle Haven, including Facebook's relocation to the Willow Road East Campus and West Campus Expansion and the approved mixed-use

Although Belle Haven has been involved in previous planning and priority-setting efforts, these changing circumstances led City Council in 2012 to support a neighborhood-wide Community Visioning process to ensure the City provides resources to the highest-priority services as defined by the Belle Haven community. This effort will also seek to organize and position the community to work effectively with the City to advocate for its needs and priorities, and identify opportunities for the neighborhood to benefit from changing neighborhood dynamics and new resources.
